Setting: St George's Mass - Peacock

First reading: Isaiah 40: 12-17, 27-end (p. 678) read by Margaret Baron

Psalm: 8

(The choir will sing the response first. You're invited to join where indicated by R)

Response: Above the heav'ns your majesty is praised

O Lord our gov'rnor, how glorious is your name in all the world! Your majesty above the heavens is praised out of the mouths of babes at the breast. You have founded a stronghold against your foes, that you might still the enemy and the avenger. R

When I consider your heav'ns, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars that you have ordained, what is man, that you should be mindful of him; the son of man, that you should seek him out? R

You have made him little lower than the angels and crown him with glory and honour. You have given him dominion over the works of your hands and put all things under his feet, R

All sheep and oxen, even the wild beasts of the field, the birds of the air, the fish of the sea and whatsoever moves in the paths of the sea. O Lord our gov'rnor, how glorious is your name in all the world! R

Second reading: 2 Corinthians 13: 11-end (NT p. 183) read by Michael Mather

Gospel: Matthew 28: 16-end (NT p. 32)

Intercessor: Nigel Russell-Sewell

All who normally receive communion in any church are welcome to receive today. If you would prefer to receive a blessing, please bow your head and keep your hands at your sides when you come, to signal your intention. Gluten free wafers and non-alcoholic wine are available; please come to the central altar & ask if you require either.

When receiving the wine, please don't dip your wafer into the wine (intinction). All advice suggests that drinking from the cup is a more hygienic method of sharing.

Communion Motet: The heavens are telling (Creation) - Haydn

Voluntary: Toccata (5th Symphonie) - Widor
